Vice President of India M Venkaiah Naidu shared the skills of empowered leadership with students of Indian Institute of Management (IIM) Ranchi on Sunday while attending the programme of IIM Ranchi. Naidu cited many examples of decisions taken by Former Late Prime Minister, Atal Bihari Vajpayees, which proved as milestone in the prosperity of the Country.

The programme was organised at Aryabhata Auditorium of Ranchi University. Naidu addressed the students of IIM Ranchi on leadership capacity and good governance under the 'Atal Bihari Vajpayee Center for Leadership, Policy and Governance'.

Addressing the students of the premier B school, Naidu said that he is elated to be here and also privileged to address the leaders of the Country. "Leaders does not mean only politician. A leader means a man who has character, caliber capacity and dedication. A person who has got knowledge, a person who has understanding of the issues faced by the Country and the system on various aspects. A person has ability, mobility and stability to bring the prosperity for the society," he added

"First of all I want to extend my greeting to those who organised the programme on the name of legendry leader and former Prime Minister, Atal Bihari Vajpayee. He was a great scholar and orator. Such was the capacity under the leadership of the great man that he gave a stable coalition government of 23 parties in the Centre which completed its full tenure of five years successfully. During his tenure the Country witnessed revolutions in connectivity in many fields from roads, ports to air. Pradhan Mantri Gramin Sadak Yojna changed the faces of India's villages. Sarva Siksha Abhiyan started during his tenure also brought new revolution in India's primary education system," said Naidu.

Lauding Vajpayee's decision making skill, the Vice President said that it was Vajpayee's guts and courage that India successful conducted Atomic Test and won Kargil War. During his tenure Jharkhand became a separate state, he added.
